President Leads in Lincoln Tribute; Legion Keynotes State Ceremonies

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — The nation celebrated the 149th anniversary of the birtl of Abraham Lincoln Wednesday, engaged in a cold war for human freedom, no longer national or global, but spatial.

President Eisenhower led the nation in paying tribute to the Civil War commander-in-chief. His representative, Col. Richard D. Boerem, adviser to the Illinois National Guard, placed a wreath at Lincoln's giant white tomb in Oak Ridge Cemetery.

Gov. Stratton and many other dignitaries joined wreath-laying processions to honor the "Great Emancipator."

But the keynote of the day-long ceremonies in Sangamon County where Lincoln took up his frontier law practice, was struck by American Legion national commander, John S. Gleason Jr., Chicago.

Gleason, at the head of the Legion's 24th annual pilgrimage to Lincoln's tomb, quoted at length from one of Lincoln's speeches before Congress in 1862:

"The dogmas of the quiet past are inadequate to the stormy present . . . the occasion is piled high with difficulty and we must rise with the occasion. As our case is new, so we must think anew and act anew . . . we must disenthrall ourselves and then we shall save our country."

As in Lincoln's day, Gleason said, "the issue is that of human freedom." But today, he said the issue has become "global," and "In fact has reached outer space."

Others present included Mrs. J. Pat Kelly, Atlanta, Ga., national president of the legion auxiliary, William F. Armstrong, Little Rock, Ark., of the legion'sEEES group, and Mrs. Mayro Cox, Denver, Colo., of the women's 8 & 40

N.Y. City, State Join in School 'Crash' Program

NEW YORK (AP) — State and city officials joined today to put speedily into operation a four-point "crash program" designed to end violence in the schools.

The plan, announced Wednesday night after a conference of Gov Averell Harriman and Mayor Robert F. Wagner and education officials, called for:

—Establishment within 30 days of four additional special schools for 600 to 800 school-age hoodlums and other problem children.

—A State Education Department study, beginning Friday, of the city's needs for other special classes and provision of additional state money if necsesary.

—Development in cooperation with labor unions of a combination work-and-study setup for some students under which they would have part-time jobs. But Harriman said there would be no change in present child labor or compulsory education laws.

—Immediate search for space for an additional 200 to 250 delinquents in custodial institutions, through expenditure of more state funds if necessary.

Staff investigators for the special Senate subcommittee on juvenile delinquency meanwhile arranged for further interviews with school officials, teachers, parents, police and students to determine whether federal aid is needed by the city in combating classroom terrorism.

Winter Term SIU Enrollment Up

CARBONDALE, Ill. — Winter term endollment at Southern Illinois University is 33 percent above one year ago. On the Carbondale campus, enrollment dropped only slightly more than two and one-half percent from September to the opening of the winter quarter, sharply reversing a five-year trend for the mid-year term.

Normal decreases between the two enrollment periods have averaged over five percent. However, Dr. Robert McGrath, SIU registrar, reported a drop of only 170 on-campus students, making the resident enrollment at Carbondale now stand at 6,237.

Including the Alton and East St. Louis and Belleville Residence Centers, Southern's total resident student population numbers 7,892, up one-third over the winter-quarter figure in 1956-57. McGrath listed 1,089 students at Alton, 469 at East St. Louis and 27 at Belleville.

Despite the slight overall decline from the fall quarter, four academic units of the University have made gains since September. They are the Graduate School, Small Business Institute, Department of Nursing and the Vocational-Technical Institute.

McGrath's report also showed 2,352 adults in non-credit courses offered throughout the area from July 1 to Dec 31; 810 students in extension classes and 552 elementary and high school students at University School.

John Edwards, 10, Shot in Eye By Airgun Pellet

Boy May Lose Sight of One Eye as Result of Injury

John Edwards, 10, may lose the sight in one of his eyes as the result of it being struck by an airgun pellet.

The boy, who lives at 506 North Cherry street, was taken to Harrisburg hospital for treatment.

Chief of Police Ross Lane said that another young lad, who was visiting on McIlrath street from the south part of the city, was out shooting an air rifle when the shot struck the Edwards boy in the eye.

Chief Lane said there has been an ordinance for years which prohibits shooting of air rifles in the city limits and that there have been many warnings in the newspaper.

"We've begged and pleaded with parents to keep their children from shooting in the city limits and although this looks like a case of locking the barn door after the horse is gone, we're going to start being severe in cases where air rifles are shot inside the city," Chief Lane stated. "In the future parents are going to be taken to task in our courts when their children shoot air rifles inside the city limits."

Wrong Dialing— Fire Dep't Gets Eldorado Call

Lawrernce Logsdon, member of the Harrisburg fire department, was on duty at 5:30 p. m. yesterday when the fire bell rang.

Grabbing the telephone a boy's voice told him, "Come to the water tower; there's a fire out by the water tower!"

"Settle down a bit and tell me the address," Logsdon said.

"Come out by the water tower and go about two blocks past Stinson's store," the boy said Logsdon was perplexed.

At that time a woman's voice took over on the phone and asked who was on the other end of the line.

"The Harrisburg Fire Department," Logsdon answered.

"Oh my goodness," she replied, "We were wanting the Eldorado fire department."

Just how the Harrisburg fire department got dialed was not known.

The fire was at the home of Mrs. Jake Barnett in the area of Wolf Creek cemetery a short distance outside the city limits east of Eldorado.

The Eldorado fire department got the call and made the run but the house and contents were destroyed. Eldorado firemen said the house caught fire when a coal heater blew up.

One Explorer Radio Dead, the Other Still Going Strong

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U. S. satellite Explorer circled the globe today with one radio apparently dead but the other still going "strong."

The Pentagon said Wednesday the 108.03 megacycle transmitter appears to have quit sending just as U. S. scientists predicted it would immediately after the satellite was launched on Jan. 31.

However, it said the second unit, operating on 108 megacycles, is expected to continue sending signals for the world-wide minitrack system for another two or three months.

Eisenhowers to Vacation in South Georgia

WASHINGTON (UP) — President Eisenhower left today for a mid-winter vacation in southern Georgia which was hit during the night by a surprise two-inch snowfall, heaviest in the area's history.

The President, accompanied by Mrs. Eisenhower, took off in the Columbine III for the flight to the Spence Air Force Base at Moultrie, Ga.

The Eisenhowers will vacation at the Thomasville, Ga., plantation of former Secretary of Treasury George M. Humphrey.

The President, cheered by a "little more improvement" in his persistent sore throat and head cold, was looking forward to some golf, quail shooting and rest in the piney woods to clear up the last tracts of his indisposition.

A bright, warm sun was expected to melt away most of the snow by the time his plane arrives.

The President met with the National Security Council before beginning his vacation.

The Humphreys own the large "Milestone" plantation just outside Thomasville. They planned to motor with the Eisenhowers from Moultrie to the estate and the President could be golfing or out in the fields after quail this afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Eisenhower were expected to remain at Thomasville at least through next week, probably returning to Washington Feb. 23 unless official crises or miserable weather force a change in plans.

Statement by Ex-Counsel Under Oath at Hearing

Says FCC Member First Claimed Money a Loan

WASHINGTON (UP) — Bernard Schwartz testified today that Federal Communications Commissioner Richard A. Mack had "acknowledged" receiving several thousand dollars from an attorney for the firm to which Mack afterward voted to award a Miami TV channel.

Schwartz said Mack claimed when questioned that the money was a loan and that "some" of it had been repaid in cash. However, he said the commissioner, "when pressed," finally conceded he could not specifically recall ever making any repayments.

Schwartz made the statement under oath to the special House investigating subcommittee which fired him Monday as chief counsel.

He identified the attorney who made the payments as T. A. Whiteside, a close friend of Mack.

He said that Whiteside was employed by a law firm to help obtain award of Channel 10 at Miami for Public Service Television Inc., a wholly owned subsidiary of National Airlines.

Schwartz produced from subcommittee files checks totaling more than $2,000 which Mack had received from Whiteside.

Schwartz said the subcommittee files contained evidence that Mack, through Whiteside, had "pledged" to vote for the airline applicant.

Files Brought In

The subcommittee, created to investigate six federal regulatory agencies including the FCC, fired Schwartz Monday after he accused a majority of the group of wanting to whitewash the inquiry. He said the majority fired him despite evidence he said he had of "White House influence" on regulatory agencies.

The subcommittee had subpenaed him to testify under oath today about charges he had made in a press statement that an FCC member took a money payment in connection with the Channel 10 case.

On Schwartz' plea that he needed them to refresh his memory, subcommittee files were brought into the hearing room and marked as "exhibits."

One folder bore the name of Sherman Adams, assistant to President Eisenhower. Schwartz said it contained copies of Adams' letters pertinent to investigation of alleged White House influence on federal agencies.

Consider Justice Dept. Action

Another file bore the name of Gordon Moore. It was not immediately disclosed whether this was George Gordon Moore, Mrs. Eisenhower's brother-in-law.

At the outset Schwartz promised to "cooperate fully" and name names if asked to do so.

As Schwartz began his testimony Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark.) said the subcommittee is "considering" asking the Justice Department to bring unspecified charges against the ousted general counsel.

Harris sent word to a reporter that "we are considering that"—the possibility of lodging charges against Schwartz.

Schwartz had turned over his so-called "working files" to Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.) a few hours after he was fired. Morse returned the files Wednesday.

Harris did not, however, indicate the nature of the charges that the subcommittee might ask the Justice Department to bring against Schwartz.

Southern Areas Hit

Three Inches of Snow in Florida Caps Long Cold Wave; 120 Dead

By United Press

Record snows in Florida and a two-inch snowfall in New Orleans today capped a week-long siege of winter's most bitter weather.

At least 120 persons have died in weather-caused mishaps since a mammoth cold air mass slammed into the eastern two-thirds of the nation last Thursday.

In the West, flood warnings were issued today for California residents along the Eel, Russian Sacramento and Feather rivers in the wake of 12 consecutive days of rain.

A record three - inch snowfall coated Tallahassee, Fla., Wednesday night. Delighted youngsters and their parents promptly started snowball fights and put up snowmen in their yards.

An inch or more of snow pelted all of northwest Florida and along the western Gulf Coast into Louisiana. One inch of snow fell in central New Orleans, postponing a Mardi Gras season parade and a snow squall at Burwood deep in the Louisiana bayous, was so heavy it cut visibility to a quarter of a mile.

Mobile, Ala., sloshed through a one-inch snowfall and residents shivered during the night in 21 degree temperatures. Readings plunged to near the freezing mark as far south as central Florida.

Mess of A Mess

The U. S. Weather Bureau in Chicago, in a special weather release, said Southerners have experienced almost six weeks of unseasonably cold weather but "events of the past few days have topped them all."

"Whatever it is that's happening to southern weather—bombs, Sputniks, Explorers or what not—no one can deny it's in a mess of a mess," the Weather Bureau concluded.

A United Press count since the start of the cold wave showed at least 120 persons killed by exposure, over-exertion, fires or weather-caused traffic wrecks.

Upper New York State, gradually recovering from a blizzard, recorded 26 deaths and frost-bitten New England counted 16 dead.

Texas had 12 weather deaths,

Feel Tax Cut Necessary

Democrats Dissatisfied with Eisenhower Economic Forecast

WASHINGTON (UP)—Democratic congressional leaders showed a growing belief today they may have to order a big tax cut to spark the nation's lagging economy.

They indicated an unwillingness to go along with President Eisenhower's "chins up" forecast of a business upturn next month.

Informants said high administration officials also were in agreement with some key Democratic lawmakers that the Federal Reserve Board must somehow be prodded into action to relax curbs on credit.

"If the Federal Reserve Board won't make more funds available to the economy," one key Democrat said, "it's likely that we'll be forced into freeing funds through tax reduction."

He added that "the Federal Reserve Board still has its head in the clouds fighting inflation" and apparently believes credit curbs should be retained to pull down prices.

Sen. Robert S. Kerr (D-Okla.) said the President's statement Wednesday predicting an early economic upturn was "very unrealistic" as a review of current conditions and "quite inaccurate" as a forecast. He said it showed that Eisenhower "is still insulated from the facts and almost immune to them."

Senate Democratic Whip Mike Mansfield (Mont.) agreed the President's appraisal was "too rosy, too glowing." He said it did not dispel the need for programs that would provide "spuds as well as Sputniks."

Republicans rallied behind the President with Lincoln Day oratory denouncing administration critics as "the Democratic gloom and doom brigade."

Commerce Secretary Sinclair Weeks exhorted Republicans to "slug back" and "nail every reckless charge."

Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell said the administration's economic record was "unmatched" in U. S. history. He echoed the President's prediction of a substantial pick-up in employment and business activity by mid-summer.

Call Plan Inadequate

The President's "chins up" statement came on the heels of a government report estimating unemployment at close to 4,500,000 in mid-January.

It was coupled with plans for a two-billion-dollar program of post office modernization which Postmaster General Arthur M. Summerfield said would provide a "timely stimulus" to the economy.

But Mansfield and Kerr pointed out that the postal program was based on the assumption that Congress would raise first class mail rates to 5 cents. Kerr added that it would provide only about 50,000 jobs even if it went into effect.

I thank thee, Oh God, for the priceless gift of eternal life. Colossians 2:6.

The Coming 'Summit'

Editorial By Bruce Biossat

In many knowledgeable diplomatic circles the conviction is growing that a summit conference will be held in 1958. The feeling is that the Russians probably will agree to the lower level preparations prescribed by the United States as a necessary prelude.

Of marked concern at this moment, however, is the mounting danger that many peoples are working themselves into a state of too great expectancy over the proposed parley. Reports from abroad indicate that all too many are blandly assuming in advance that a spectacular easing of East-West tensions will result.

This wishful thinking is understandable among those who are ignorant of or have forgotten what it is like to negotiate with the Russians, even when fruitful results are finally achieved.

Such folk might well be reminded of the "conference" that produced the armistice in the Korean war. That required two years and 575 separate meetings with the Communists. Then there was the Austrian peace treaty, concluded at long last in 1955 after eight years and 400 meetings.

We in America are well aware, as are important leaders abroad, that the Russians more often than not use the "conference technique" simply as one means of accomplishing political and economic objectives—if they can.

At all times we must be on guard to prevent such bloodless victories over free men.

On those rare occasions when the Russians do in fact want to reach some sort of agreement, it is obviously their intent to seek the maximum benefit for their side by trying to wear us down through the grinding process of endless meetings.

Plainly, we will be gravely handicapped in matching or besting the Russians at the conference table if millions who stand behind us clamor frantically for an easing of tensions at any cost.

Knowing the Communists as we do, we can be sure that the cost of an agreement obtained under such pressures would ultimately be ruinous to free men.

Get It Up for The Red Cross

Even when things are sailing along smoothly, the American Red Cross merits our fullest support. But it needs that help more than ever this time, for 1957 was a rough year, plagued by floods, hurricanes, tornadoes and other disasters.

These so thoroughly drained Red Cross resources that its reserves have been practically wiped out. To be ready for new troubles which may strike in 1958 or later, it must raise at least 95 million dollars in its campaign across the country next month.

We must not forget that as our population zooms higher and higher and our economic structure expands to match it, the demands upon the Red Cross grow ever greater.

The Red Cross long since has earned its place in American esteem. To its 1958 appeal, as always before, there can be but one response: Let's get it up.

"Don't Hit the Front---Just Torpedo the Back Part"

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: AFL-CIO Fires Some Of Its Veterans On Short Notice; Loss Of Teamster Dues Causes Curtailment; Italian-American Congressmen Have A Field Day Feting Italian Movie Actress.

WASHINGTON. — While the AFL-CIO is protesting against rising unemployment, it has added to the unemployment problem by summarily firing over 100 of its own workers, in some cases with only one week's notice. The discharged employees, some of them veterans of 20 to 30 years are complaining that they would have thrown a picket line around any company that gave them such treatment.

The firings, extending from the front office to the janitor force, followed the heavy loss in dues as a result of ousting the Teamsters Union.

Top official to get the ax was Lew Hines, special AFL-CIO representative, who was given eight days' notice. He spent many years as trouble-shooter for the late AFL President Bill Green and also served as Pennsylvania's Secretary of Labor and Industry from 1939 to 1943.

The AFL-CIO's secretary-treasurer, Bill Schnitzler, acting for President George Meany, tried to present Hines with a gold watch as a "retirement" present. A photographer was called in to take pictures of the ceremony.

"George is sorry he couldn't be here," Schnitzler explained to Hines.

"If he is so sorry," snorted the fired official, "why don't we go down to Miami and have the ceremony there?"

Schnitzler tried to soothe the ruffled Hines, and finally pulled the gold watch out of his desk for the presentation.

"You are not going to give me any stinking watch," snapped Hines. "You are not going to add insult to injury. You can take your watch and stick it back in the drawer."

Speaking more for the other fired employes than himself, Hines told Schnitzler angrily: "The way you have handled this has been perfectly lousy."

With that, he walked out, leaving Schnitzler dangling the gold watch.

Note — Protests against the summary dismissals have been so heated that the one week's notice has now been extended to 30 days' notice.

GINA CONQUERS CONGRESS

Beauteous Italian movie actress Gina Lollobrigida did at least one thing for Congress. She caused big-city congressmen from the eastern U. S. A. to get to work on Monday. Usually they take long week ends from Thursday to Tuesday.

Miss Lollobrigida was also the center of attraction at a lunch given by Rep. Pete Rodino of Newark, N. J., for Italian-American congressmen, who now constitute quite a group in the House of Representatives. They seemed to enjoy the luncheon more than the Italian glamor girl did, though she was a good sport about it.

"My granddaughter asked me to bring home your autograph," remarked newly Congressman John Dent (D., Pa.), whose Italian ancestors were named Dente. "And my brother," added Dent, "asked me to bring you home."

As Rodino introduced Miss Lollobrigida, Dent jokingly offered to meet her later and translate Rodino's remarks into Italian.

"I am sorry my English is not so beautiful," said Gina.

"You make up for it otherwise," replied Dent.

"Once I tried to study English," explained Gina, "but the teacher when she go away from my home, she speaks more better Italian than I speak English."

After the lunch, Rodino asked if there were any questions from the reporters present.

"I'll start off," declared Rep. Albert Morano (R., Conn.), who used to be congressional secretary to Clare Boothe Luce.

"Are you a member of the press?" asked Rodino.

DEMOCRAT OR REPUBLICAN?

Ignoring the question, Morano welcomed Gina on behalf of the Republicans.

"Gina is non-partisan," gibed Rodino, a Democrat.

"We Republicans in the House adore you as much as the Democrats," continued Morano. "Several years ago we sent a beautiful ambassador to your country, and she did a wonderful job. Now your country has sent a beautiful ambassador to us, and I'm sure that you are doing a wonder job, too."

"Are there any questions from the press?" repeated Rodino.

One reporter asked Gina's opinion of Rodino as an escort. "Very young and galla-t," she replied. Another asked whether she had seen President Eisenhower on this trip. She had not.

"Do you know Sophia Loren?" asked Morano, getting back into the act. Gina said she did.

"He's met her, too," piped up Rep. Hugh Addonizio of Newark.

"Yes," recalled Morano, "they took a picture of me kissing her hand at the Italian embassy, and I forget to tell my wife."

Rep. Freddie Santangelo of Manhattan suggested that his colleague, Rep. Victor Anfuso of Brooklyn, say a few words.

"I was born in Italy," boasted Anfuso. "I think I'm the only man in Congress who can say that. I'm proud of the beautiful relations you are promoting between our two great countries."

"You know," commented Santangelo, "I know of no other event that could attract the 12 Italo-American members of Congress to Washington on a Monday morning."

With that, the luncheon broke up. But not before Rep. Roland Libonati of Chicago welcomed Gina on behalf of the Middle West.

"We in Chicago don't cater to stuffy important people," said Libonati. "But we welcome you. I think your popularity here marks a new acceptance by the American people of a new sweet type of personality."

Your Income Tax

Contributions

H. J. White, Director of the Internal Revenue Service for this district today explained the rules for deducting charitable contributions on individual income tax returns for 1957.

To deduct contributions, you must itemize your deductions on page 2 of Form 1040. You can deduct gifts to religious, charitable, educational, scientific, or literary organizations, and organizations for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals, so long as the organization to which you contribute is not operated for personal profit and does not carry on propaganda or otherwise attempt to influence legislation.

Gifts to veterans' organizations, or to governmental agencies are deductible if used for public purposes. So also are gifts to fraternal organizations if used for charitable, religious, or other purposes listed above. But keep in mind that you cannot deduct dues or other payments to an organization for which you receive a personal profit. For example, you can deduct gifts to a YMCA, but not membership dues.

Gifts of property are deductible in the amount of the fair market value of the property at the time of contribution. You are not permitted to deduct the value of personal services you perform for qualified organizations. You can, however, deduct out of pocket expenses you pay in rendering the services, including the purchase price and upkeep of a uniform; transportation expenses and the cost of meals and lodging while away from home overnight on behalf of the organization.

In order to claim a deduction the organization to which you contribute must have been organized or created in the United States or its possessions, or under the law of the U. S., its possessions, or one of the states.

Following is a partial list of the organizations to which you can contribute and claim a deduction:

Churches and church organizations.

Nonprofit schools and hospitals.

Community chests and United Givers Funds.

Salvation Army.

Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, and other similar organizations.

Veterans' organizations such as the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars (but not membership dues).

Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A.

American Cancer Society, National Polio Foundation, Tuberculosis Societies, Muscular Dystrophy Society, and other similar nonprofit organizations.

You cannot deduct gifts to any of the following, no matter how worthy or deserving:

Relatives, friends or other individuals.

Social clubs.

Political parties or candidates.

Chambers of Commerce.

Labor unions.

Propaganda organizations.

As a general rule, your deduction for contributions may not exceed 20 per cent of your adjusted gross income. Your adjusted gross income is the amount to be entered in line 11 on page 1 of your return Form 1040. For example, if the amount on line 11 of your return is $6,000, you may not deduct more than $1,200 for charitable contributions no matter how much you gave.

There is one exception to this general rule. You may deduct up to 30 per cent of your adjusted gross income if the extra 10 percent consists of gifts to churches, tax-exempt educational institutions, tax-exempt hospitals, or certain medical research organizations.

Mr. White advised taxpayers who have questions concerning the deduction for contributions or any other matter on their Federal income tax return for 1957 to telephone or visit the local office of the Internal Revenue Service. The local office may be reached by telephone CL 3-7993. The address of the local office is 111 1-2 North Main, Harrisburg.

Southern Illinois Retail Sales Top Billion For Year

CARBONDALE, Ill.—Annual retail sales in the southern 31 counties of Illinois are now over the 1 billion dollar mark, the current issue of the Southern Illinois Business Bulletin reports.

Sales of $1,029,019,000 last year were 12 per cent above the figure for 1954, according to an article by Charles Rosenbarger, instructor in business administration at Southern Illinois University. The greatest percentage gain in the two year period was registered by Edwards county (43.1 per cent. Lawrence county was second with 35.8 per cent. Retail sales declined in seven counties.

Rosenbarger says southern Illinois retailers are getting a greater share of increases in consumer incomes than is true of Illinois and United States retailers generally. Last year, area residents spent an estimated 66.5 per cent of their after-tax incomes in local stores.

Matter of FACT

The dollar gets its name from a silver coin first minted over 400 years ago in the little village of St. Joachimstal, Bohemia. Since the coins were made of good silver and were of full weight, they circulated far and wide. They became known as Joachimstalers, which was changed to thaler or taler in Germany, to dalder or daler in the Netherlands and dollar in England. When the U.S. adopted a unit of money, the dollar was selected.

Federal Budget Costs Average Family $800

NEW YORK (UP) — What will the record 74-billion-dollar budget for fiscal 1959 actually cost you and your family?

The Tax Foundation figures that it will cost the average family with an income of $5,000 about $800—or 16 per cent of the family's annual earnings.

National defense is by far the biggest single item in the budget, accounting for $496 of the total. The next biggest single item—$85—will go for interest on the federal debt.

Approximately $54 of the average family's federal tax burden will be spent for veteran's services and benefits, while $50 is ear-marked for agriculture and agricultural resources.

The foundation also listed the following spending categories and what they will cost your family:

—Labor and welfare, $39
—Commerce and housing, $18
—General government, $15
—Natural resources, $16
—International affairs and finances, $14
—Allowance for contingencies, $13.

This adds up to a total of $800 for the average family, excluding social security taxes. State and local taxes will make the tax load even heavier.

The foundation figures that the average family will pay out around one-third of its annual income in direct, indirect and hidden taxes.

About 98 per cent of all inmates committed to the California State Department of Corrections are eventually released.

B. & P. W. SPEAKER—Mrs. Lester Fullerton, Mr. Fullerton and Mrs. Mary Lois Bynum in the dining room of the First Christian church where Mr. Fullerton spoke to the Harrisburg Business and Professional Women's club, Tuesday evening (Register Photo)

Guest Speaker Discusses Postal Service at Meeting of B. & P. W. Club

Mrs. Mary Lois Bynum, public affairs chairman of the Harrisburg Business and Professional Women's club, introduced Lester Fullerton of Coulterville to the members and guests at its regular dinner meeting in the First Christian church Tuesday evening.

Mr. Fullerton has served the U. S. post office at Coulterville as a rural letter carrier for a quarter of a century and has seen many innovations for the improvement of the service and met with most of the problems, some of which are minimized with modern buildings and equipment. He was president of the Illinois State Rural Letter Carriers association for two years, (1955-1956) and has a wide acquaintance among the carriers His friendship for Mrs. Bynum, letter carrier for Harrisburg RFD 1, and his devotion to her service prompted him to accept the invitation to come to Harrisburg to address the club, to show a film of the workings of the post office and another of the convention held in Jackson, Miss., last year, attended by Mrs. Bynum and her daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Fullerton talked informally during the dinner hour and in his commentary on the film, Mr. Fullerton explained the need for the proposed new postal rates to reduce the tremendous deficit of millions of dollars each year incurred by the post office department of the government. He asked that the people of this state, which has the largest rural service of any in the nation, express themselves to their legislators, whether they approve or disapprove of the proposed increase in postal rates. He pointed out that the average citizen would spend about 52 cents more each year for postage under the proposed raise and that the taxes now are about $8 to pay the interest on the ever increasing debt.

Carl Beggs and Cecil Fulkerson operated the moving picture projector and screen for the pictures.

Mrs. Nell M. Meyers, vice-president of the club, presided at the meeting and Mrs. Carl Cooley read the collect.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.
(Written for NEA Service)

Children put most adults to shame with their freedom from complexity. They say what they think without covering up their thoughts with unnecessary words. They pray so openly and so sincerely when they have been taught about God and His power in the universe.

A child recently prayed "Thank God for erasers which make mistakes disappear." That thought is so honest and so real that everyone should read it and pause Many adults ought to utter the same prayer.

Most of us do not want to admit that we make mistakes. If we make errors we want to hide them. We ever hesitate to confess our sins to God. Yet, a child expects to make mistakes. The child simply wants to erase the errors and correct them.

God alone can erase the mistakes and sins from our lives. "Thank God for erasers to make our sins disappear." Please give us clean pages on which to write!

THANK YOU

The Saline County Republican Boosters Club wishes to thank everybody who helped make the Lincoln Day Dinner at Eldorado Tuesday night the great success that it was and is especially grateful to Mr. Edward G. Pree of Springfield for coming to this county and making such an inspiring speech to the crowd on hand.

46.6 Million Tons Coal Produced In Illinois in '57

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — Illinois mines produced 46,682,889 tons of coal in 1957, according to statistics released by the Department of Mines and Minerals.

In a report to Governor William G. Stratton the department revealed that 12,781 miners employed in 34 coal-producing counties set the second best tonnage figure in five years. In 1956 the total tonnage was 47,804,040.

Of the 1957 tonnage, 44,532,214 tons were produced in shipping mines, the remainder in mines selling their coal locally. Shipping mines employed 11,604 persons and 1,177 miners worked in local mines.

The report shows that the "hand loader" is rapidly nearing extinction. In 1953 hand loading accounted for 340,506 tons but in 1957 the hand loaded tonnage had dropped to 111,329. Hauling from the face by mules has also practically disappeared, only 79 being used in the entire state. In 1953 there were 244 animals used in underground haulage.

In a breakdown of mining methods, machines accounted for 26,767,434 tons; stripping, 19 883,979 tons; by hand, 31,476 tons. This compares to 29,132,106 tons by machines, 16,680,336 by stripping and 153,672 by hand in 1953

There were 21 fatalities in Illinois during 1957 as compared to 28 in 1953. The record was set in 1955 when there were only 18 fatalities. The number of nonfatal injuries has dropped steadily since 1953 when 920 were recorded, compared to the 542 in 1957.

The oldest program of professional education offered in the United States other than theology was a medical course presented in 1765 at the Charitable School of Uhiladelphia, now the University of Pennsylvania.

California ranks sixth among the states in average number of cows milked, first in average production of milk per cow, fourth in total production of milk, and third in cash receipts from farm marketings of milk and cream.

THE STORY: An uprising of the Modocs has made travel unsafe in Oregon and Ward Sebastian urges Connie Ashland, niece of Major Ashland, to remain at his ranch which is occupied by troops. Connie accepts and Sebastian promises to bring her luggage from Yreka.

Finished with their coffee, Sebastian and Phil Ashland left, and Connie, moving to a kitchen window, watched them stride vigorously across the open interval between the ranch house and other buildings and the corrals beyond. She had always thought of Phil as being tall, yet Ward Sebastian beat him by an inch or two. In any event, they were a pair of fine, straight specimens, and Connie was startled to realize that some small part of her settled interest in one, now was being claimed by the other.

A trace of confusion over this fact caught her and she turned away from the window to find Kitty Dutra at her elbow, also watching the departure of the two men. Searching for a remark to cover her uncertainty, Connie said:

"Mr. Sebastian is a very considerate man, isn't he?"

Missing neither Connie's color or small confusion, Kitty Dutra smiled wisely.

"There never was a kinder. I've known Ward for years. He befriended my father and my brother beyond all reason, and now he is befriending me, allowing me the security of his home until I get my future unraveled a bit. You see, I recently lost my husband in a Modoc raid."

"Oh!" breathed Connie. "I, I'm sorry. I didn't know."

Kitty Dutra inclined her head slightly and made another of her startling statements.

"Even so I was luckier than some. I lost my husband. Other women, in the same raid, lost not only a husband, but all their future too. It wasn't that way with me, and there's a difference."

She became busy about the stove again, dark, silent, full of contained intensity of feeling, leaving Connie to puzzle out the full meaning of her words.

• • •

Just short of midday, Capt. Judson Dillon and an escort of 16 cavalry troopers led a long line of heavily loaded pack mules in at the Sebastian ranch. With them were Provo Holt and Yance McCloud. The mules were gaunt and slack-gaited under their packs, and the men looked worn and punished and surly.

Standing at Ward Sebastian's elbow, watching the arrival, Sam Lester grinned like a wicked old wolf.

"Two night camps in open weather along the trail ain't sweetened them fellers any, boy. I wonder what that Cap'n Dillon thinks now of his judgment, alongside yours?"

"It doesn't matter," Sebastian said. "The land itself will teach him—or kill him."

"That feller, Holt," said Sam, "he's got a nerve, comin' in at this ranch."

"Some of the mules are his," Sebastian said. He added, a little grimly, "As soon as they are unloaded, he moves out!"

Captain Dillon had dismounted stiffly and briefly questioned a sergeant of the 21st. Now he came over past Ward Sebastian and Sam Lester. His eyes were sunken and bloodshot from lack of sleep, his narrow cheeks drawn and grubby with unshaven whiskers. He would have passed with a brusk nod, but Sebastian stopped him.

"A moment, Captain. The supplies I brought out from Yreka have been delivered to the care of Maj. Ross Ashland, who tells me further transport will be made by Army wagon. And, Captain, with your party is a man I don't care to have on my land. I refer to Provo Holt, of course. I'd appreciate it if you'd see that his animals are unpacked first, so that he can leave immediately."

"The man," said Captain Dillon, "happens to be traveling with me, strictly on Army business. Where I stop, he can stop. He has every right to food and rest and shelter."

"Not on my land or under my roof, Captain!"

Dillon looked Sebastian up and down. "Mister," he said, his voice harsh in his throat, "can't you do anything but try to obstruct Army affairs?"

"As it happens, Captain," Sebastian retorted, "I'm not trying to obstruct any Army affairs. This Provo Holt is no part of the Army. He's a renegade, and whether he is under your authority or not, he doesn't stay one extra minute on my place. If necessary, I personally will run him off with a gun. If he turns on me, I'll kill him! Does that answer you, Captain?"

"I hope," said Dillon sarcastically, "you'll allow me time to report officially to Major Ashland before you take any such violent steps?"

"Captain," Sebastian said, with equal sarcasm, "I wouldn't for the world interfere with your official duties."

Dillon went on and turned into the bunkhouse where Major Ashland had set up a temporary headquarters. Sam Lester cocked an eye up at Sebastian.

"Now you've had your say about Provo Holt But how about that man of his, Yance McCloud?"

Sebastian shruggd. "I keep remembering he's Kitty Dutra's brother. Because of that, I've made a lot of allowances for him in the past. But there's a limit to a man's patience. This time he's used up his term of grace. So he leaves, right along with Holt."

Imagine Meeting You Here, My Dear

CHICAGO—(U.P.)—At an intersection where shrubbery cut the visibility, Dr. Alex M. Buchholz's car rammed the rear end of another auto. The latter did a double flip, landing upright.

Dr. Buchholz rushed over to see if the driver was hurt. Inside was Mrs. Buchholz.

"Why, dear, I didn't know it was you," he said.

"Then we are even," replied his wife.

Russia Pulls Ahead Because We Lack National Effort, Reuther Claims

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP) — "The real tragedy is that the Russians are pulling ahead—not because they are superior—but because we're not trying."

That is labor leader Walter Reuther's answer to the question which the United Press asked of six prominent Americans:

"What troubles you most as you look at America today?"

"I am most disturbed by our failure to comprehend the true dimensions of the Soviet challenge," said Reuther. "We are not moving aggressively and effectively to mobilize America's human and material resources to meet this challenge. We're taking piddling, half-hearted measures when we ought to be going all-out."

Sounds Worried

Reuther is president of the United Auto Workers, and vice president of the AFL-CIO. His red hair, his outspokenness and his ever-readiness to wade into a fight have earned him the adjective "fiery." But at times during the interview, he sounded more like a worried college professor than a scrappy union chief.

He did not once mention his current battle with the auto industry over UAW demands for a profit-sharing system. In fact, his only reference to labor-management relations was in reply to a question about the economic outlook.

"I don't think we face anything like the depression of the early 1930's. There are too many cushions built into the economy. But we do need corrective steps now to reverse this trend quickly. If we let it drift to the point where unemployment breeds more unemployment, we're going to get into very serious trouble."

Reuther emphasized that the domestic economic situation is only part of his concern for America; he is also deeply troubled about our position in the global struggle with Communist tyranny.

Need National Effort

"We can beat the ears off the Communists in any field you name—science, technology, production—if we try," he said vehemently. "But we've got to have a real national effort."

Reuther said he is convinced Americans are ready to make the kind of effort that is required, but they haven't been asked to do so.

"The American people have responded to bold leadership in every crisis the country has faced. But if our leaders define the challenge as very small, naturally they get a very small response."

"I think we need to strengthen our military posture — quickly. We must greatly expand our educational efforts, and quit treating our schools as if they are some kind of fringe activity. We must facilitate greater scientific research.

"Above all, we need a more dynamic foreign policy. It should be built around an expanded long-range program of economic aid to undeveloped countries."

Ball Points

JANESVILLE, Wis. — (UP) — Ball-point pens now outsell conventional fountain pens four to one with an estimated sale of 200 million ball points last year. The ball point was invented in 1888, but mass production was not started until 1945. Prices have dropped from the $12.50 per pen charged immediately after the war to less than 50 cents each. The industry expects to be selling 350 million ball points a year by 1697.

Rails Granted Freight Hikes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's major railroads will raise freight rates on certain commodities an average of 2 per cent starting Saturday.

The Interstate Commerce Commission authorized the increase Wednesday.

The carriers also were authorized to raise by 5 per cent their charges for stopping freight trains for local freight handling or industrial switching. But the commission rejected all proposed hikes above the 5 per cent level.

Proposed increases of up to 10 per cent for loading and unloading freight at other points were approved but the commission set aside indefinitely all hikes above that level.

The commission estimated that the increases it granted would give the railroads an estimated 182 million dollars a year in revenues if they are applied to both interstate and within-state traffic.

Tunisia Again Demands France Remove Troops

President Says He Will Turn Nation Into Guerrilla Fighters

By United Press

Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba demanded again today that France remove its troops from Tunisia. He said he would turn the nation into an army of guerrilla fighters to drive them out if necessary.

Bourguiba, speaking from Tunis on his weekly radio report to the nation, warned the French that he would reply with force to any attacks by the French on his own troops.

He said he was willing to resume negotiations with France but not until all French forces are removed from Tunisia. And he said he and the entire nation were willing to go underground to get rid of them.

Bourguiba spoke as tension steadily mounted in Tunisia and as France began diplomatic overtures to halt the pressure Bourguiba has been able to apply through favorable world opinion.

Asks to Renew Talks

One report from Tunis said France delivered a formal note to Tunisia this morning offering to resume the discussions interrupted by the French bombing of Sakiet Sidi Youssef on Saturday.

France's action in Tunisia came under discussion today at the Paris meeting of the NATO permanent council for the second straight day.

The French assembly gave Premier Felix Gaillard a big vote of confidence Wednesday after he explained that France bombed the Tunisian village to wipe out a nest of rebels who had taken refuge in Tunisia.

But there was growing impatience in the assembly to know what Gaillard would do next. The immediate cause was fear that a Tunisian protest to the United Nations Security Council would open the entire Algerian rebellion to foreign intervention in the U. N.

Three Men Found Suffocated

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Sealed windows and a blocked flue were blamed today for the apparent suffocation of three men in an apartment here.

Police said the victims, Jefferson Leach, 57, Archie Kessler, 65, and Lloyd Bockman, age unknown, were found seated in the living room, their topcoats on.

The bodies were discovered by Mrs. Leach when she returned home from work Wednesday. She said the men were friends of her husband.

Former Luftwaffe Pilot and Family Now Busy Operating Service Station

By SAM HANCOCK
United Press Staff Correspondent

HERRIN, Ill. (UP)—Karl Goerke, a former pilot in the Luftwaffe, is making his living in America at his former hobby.

Goerke, who came to America with his family three years ago, operates a modern service station on Herrin's main street.

In civilian life he liked to tinker around with cars and motors when he wasn't at work as a flying instructor.

"It's strange that I'm now making my living at my former hobby," George said. "I'd like to fly now in my spare time, but I don't have any."

Was Captured Twice

None of the Goerke family, including his wife, Margaret, a former high school teacher, and their daughter, Barbara, 15, has much time for hobbies.

They are too busy working at their service station.

Goerke was drafted in World War II to train pilots for Goering's striking force. Towards the end of the war, the Luftwaffe needed combat replacements and Goerke was pressed into service.

His plane was shot down in April, 1945, but he parachuted to safety, only to be captured by the Russians. Two days later he escaped, but was captured again by the Allied forces. He was released Sept. 30, 1945, and finally found his family.

The Goerkes arrived in America on Nov. 12, 1954, and came to Johnston City. They were sponsored by a former German doctor. Karl got a job as a service station attendant.

A little over a year later, he leased a small station in Herrin six miles away. Last June, he took over operation of the new station.

"I guess I miss the free time we had in Germany more than anything else. We were able to travel a good deal," Mrs. Goerke said. She now does the bookkeeping work at the station and helps man the gas pumps during rush periods.

Barbara, a high school freshman, checks in for work after school until 9 p. m., and checks gas, oil and washes cars all day Saturdays.

Mrs. Goerke and Barbara take Sundays off, but Goerke works a half-day then, too.

"Once I was homesick. But then I met our customers and learned to know their children and what kind of candy they liked, when they had babies, and all about their trips, and my homesickness vanished. Now I look forward to coming to the station," Mrs. Goerke said.

Mrs. Goerke taught at several German high schools including one at Koenigsberg. Barbara was graduated from the eighth grade last year with a straight A average.

"School here is very easy," her mother said.

Seek Portion of Nuclear Weapon Dropped Into Sea

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP) — The Navy searched today for a "portion of a nuclear weapon" dropped into the sea last week by an Air Force bomber damaged in a collision in air.

The Air Force reported Wednesday that the B-47 jet bomber jettisoned the device shortly after it collided with an Air Force F-86 at 35,000 feet. But spokesmen said the weapon was not assembled and the portion posed no threat of explosion or radioactivity.

The bomber suffered considerable damage in the collision but made a safe landing at the Air Force base here. The pilot of the fighter bailed out and was unharmed except for frost bite.

The people of Savannah appeared unconcerned about presence of the part, thought to be in an area just off Tybee (Savannah) Beach, 18 miles from the port of Savannah.

"These atomic bombs come in many pieces and they aren't dangerous until they actually are assembled," commented Mayor W. L. Mingledorff.

The Air Force made routine announcement of the collision last Wednesday and made no mention of the nuclear device. It disclosed today that the Navy has been searching for the part day and night since last Saturday.

Two Teen-Agers Arrested for Robbing Motel

VANDALIA, Ill. (UP)—Two teenagers were arrested Wednesday on charges they robbed a motel of $300 at gunpoint.

Police said William Rasmussen, 18, and James Breckinridge, 16, were nabbed at a roadblock exactly one hour after the youths allegedly robbed the motel.

Ray Robbins, owner of Robbins Motel at the north edge of Vandalia on U. S. 40, said the two youths calmly walked in and demanded his money. Robbins, his wife and son, and an unidentified employe were tied up and left on the floor.

Robbins said he worked his way loose, then notified authorities. A roadblock at Carlyle in Clinton County intercepted the youths. Police said they had the stolen money with them.

Rasmussen and Breckinridge were returned to the Fayette County jail at Vandalia. Authorities said one of the youths was from Collinsville, the other from East St. Louis.

Five persons were killed when flames raced through a farm house near Danville, Va.

Fires claimed at least 18 lives Wednesday, including a father and seven children at Alliance, Ohio; four children at Fayetteville, N. C.; a mother and two sons at Worcester, Mass., and three young brothers at Flint, Mich.

Most of the fires were blamed on defective or over-taxed heating units.

The nation's northern regions froze under another night of sub or near zero readings. One of the coldest spots was the upper Great Lakes where the mercury dropped to 18 degrees below zero at Pellston, Mich.

Gallatin Board Opposes Power Rate, Multiplier

The Gallatin County Board of Supervisors, meeting in an adjourned session Wednesday of last week, by unanimous vote adopted resolutions which oppose the new county tax multiplier and the increase in electric power rate proposed by the Illinois Power Company.

One resolution requests the Department of Revenue to rescind the directive ordering the county clerk to increase the multiplier to be applied to the assessed valuation of property from 4.0 to 4.1667.

The other resolution adopted by the supervisors reads as follows:

"Whereas the Illinois Power Company has applied to the Illinois Commerce Commission for permission to increase the rate to be charged for the sale of electric power to consumers in Gallatin County, and a hearing on said application has been set for the 18th day of February, A. D., 1948;

"Now therefore be it resolved by the Gallatin County Board of Supervisors that the Illinois Commerce Commission be and hereby is requested to reject the application of the Illinois Power Company for an increase in rates to be charged for electric current."

The board also approved the annual report of the county treasurer and agreed to pay all bills approved by the finance committee.

It was also voted to authorize the issuance of anticipation warrants in the amount of $3,000 for the highway program and $4,000 for the Tuberculosis Sanitorium fund. The action of January 7 which authorized the issuance of a $7,000 anticipation warrant was rescinded.

The supervisors agreed to pay $80.42, county's half of bridge repair and new culverts in Eagle Creek Township, and $52.52, county's half of bridge repair in Ridgway Township.

The board adjourned to Wednesday, March 5.

Ask Expulsion of Negro Girl from Little Rock High

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — The superintendent of Little Rock schools today sought permanent expulsion of Negro student Minnie Jean Brown from integrated Central High.

Supt. Virgil T. Blossom at the same time said he had suspended the 16-year-old girl for two weeks for her part in two separate racial incidents last week at the forcibly-integrated school.

Blossom appealed to the school board late Wednesday to expel the girl because of the incidents in which she had been involved.

Minnie Jean was suspended from school once before, just before the Christmas holidays, for pouring chili on two white students. Altogether, she has been involved in five racial incidents at Central High.

Blossom, in a letter to the girl's parents, said Minnie Jean had violated an agreement under which she was reinstated in school after the chili dumping incident.

She agreed not to "retaliate" either verbally or physically to any harassment by other students, but to things such things entirely up to the school authorities to handle," Blossom said.

Last week Minnie Jean was hit with a purse after calling a white girl "poor white trash" and a white boy poured a bowl of soup over her head in the school cafeteria.

The Negro girl's mother said she would protest Blossom's request for permanent suspension of her daughter.

Goffrey Hughes Recommended for Planning Post

BENTON, Ill. (AP) — The executive secretary of Southern Illinois Inc., an area development group, has been recommended by a state representative for appointment as superintendent of the Illinois Industrial Planning and Development Commission.

Bert Baker, Benton Democrat urged the appointment of Goffrey Hughes of Carbondale in a telegram to Gov. Stratton.

The superintendent's job has been vacant since the resignation of former Republican Congressman C. W. (Runt) Bishop of Carterville, whose appointment was criticized by some of the commission's advisory board.

Baker said he had not consulted Hughes about the recommendation. He said he feels Hughes would do a "wonderful job, not only for southern Illinois but the entire state."

Hughes is a former Democratic county superintendent of schools in Franklin County.

Ill Japanese Wife, Son Arrive To Visit Airman

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A critically ill airman's Japanese wife and 19-month-old son arrived here by plane one day early today.

After landing they went directly across the Mississippi River to his bedside at Scott Air Force Base outside Belleville, Ill.

Airman 1C John D. Veale, who is suffering from leukemia, was ordered back to the United States shortly after his reenlistment in the Air Force last December.

He had planned to return here with his wife, Kiku, and their son Kenneth, but a second illness interfered. Doctors discovered that Kiku was suffering from tuberculosis and Veale had to leave his family behind.

When doctors told Mrs. Veale several days ago she was improved enough to make the trans-Pacific trip, Veale's friends rallied to help their buddy's family.

A fund was immediately established by the airmen at Chitose Air Force Base, Hokkaido, Japan, to finance the trip. The U. S. consul at Sapporo, Japan, rushed through an emergency visa.

Kiku and Kenneth arrived at San Francisco Wednesday and flew here today.

At the hospital ward, Veale said his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Veale, Washington, Ind., were coming to the base Saturday "and they can hardly wait to meet Kiku and Kenneth."

Benton Post Office, Court House Among Federal Projects

WASHINGTON (UP) — The post office and court house at Benton, Ill., are among construction projects proposed by President Eisenhower to stimulate the nation's economy.

The opinion was voiced Wednesday by officials of the General Services Administration.

Officials said the Benton project, listed at $1,100,000, is one of 92 fully approved lease-purchase projects which could be built within the next two years.

Cub Pack 23 Members, Parents Contribute to World Friendship Fund

Cub Scouts and parents of Cub Pack 23 in Harrisburg performed "Good Turn with a long range" by contributing to the World Friendship Fund of the Boy Scouts of America.

The Friendship Fund is part of a nation-wide effort to assist in the development of Scouting in some of the poverty-stricken parts of the world.

Scout units throughout the United States are making contributions as a part of the Boy Scout Anniversary program.

Cub Pack 23, sponsored by the First Presbyterian church of Harrisburg, is the first unit in Sahara district to turn in its contributions. Jerry Kladiva is Cubmaster.

Farley Takes Group On "Tour of Area" With Slides, Film

Members of the Ridgway Chamber of Commerce and their ladies enjoyed a delightful "tour of the area" Thursday night of last week when William Farley of Harrisburg showed numerous slides and a 30-minute film of the beauty spots of Southern Illinois.

Those seeing the pictures were amazed at the number of outstanding places of natural beauty and interest in the area, most of which many had not seen or been told about.

It was generally agreed that the Shawnee Hills Recreation Association has plenty to promote in the way of attracting tourists to South eastern Illinois.

Those attending the dinner meeting at Rose's cafe were Mr. and Mrs. Farley, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Abell, Mr. and Mrs. Mat Aydt, Mr and Mrs. J. T. Colnon, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Drone, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Drone, Mr. and Mrs. Tyler Gauen, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Gravett, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Holmes, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Miner, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Smith, Mr. and Mrs John Scherrer, Mr. and Mrs. Thom as P. Scherrer, Mrs. Florence Aydt, Mrs. Zelah Holderby, J. L. Hale and J. T. Shewmaker.

Haverhill, Mass, was the home of Hannah Dustin who was kidnaped by Indians in 1697 but returned home safely after scalping 10 of her captors.

Indians Open Up Tough Policy With Holdouts

By United Press

The Chicago White Sox and the Cleveland Indians have adopted decidedly different methods in dealing with potential holdouts.

The White Sox seem to be meeting all the demands of their players by doling out record salaries, but the Indians have instituted a "get tough" policy with six of their "stragglers."

All-Star second baseman Nellie Fox, no-hit pitcher Bob Keegan and veteran southpaw Billy Pierce accepted their 1958 contracts with the White Sox Wednesday.

Fox became the highest paid player in the history of the club when he signed for "over $40,000." Pierce, the Sox' top-salaried pitcher in history last year (at about $35,000), also was given a slight pay boost while Keegan, who pitched the only no-hit game in the majors last season, received "a substantial increase."

Lane Issues Warning

However, all was not so serene in the Cleveland tepee, where General Manager Frank Lane warned six Indians they may lose much wampum if they don't sign by March 1.

Lane said that $100 will be deducted from the contract offered to each holdout for every day he fails to report at the Indians' training camp at Tucson, Ariz.

Veteran outfielder Gene Woodling, one of the six unsigned Cleveland players, answered Lane's threat with a threat of his own.

"I won't hold still for anything like this," he declared. "It just means that my price will go up $100 every day after March 1. We have a baseball commissioner and I think he ought to step into a situation like this."

HERE WE GO—The season is several weeks away, but Don Cardwell seemed ready to fire right from the start when Phillies opened their rookie camp at Clearwater, Fla. Cardwell, 22-year-old righty, was with the club last year.

Robertson Leads Cincinnati To 94-77 Win Over Bradley To Gain Lock on NCAA Berth

By United Press

High-scoring Oscar Robertson and his Cincinnati teammates had a "lock" on an NCAA tournament berth today while Bradley's beaten Braves eyed a National Invitation Tournament bid as a consolation prize.

With Robertson scoring 40 points, Cincinnati virtually nailed down the Missouri Valley Conference title and the NCAA bid that goes with it Wednesday night via a "revenge" 94-77 victory over Bradley. Bradley beat Cincinnati, 79-73 on Dec. 30 and kept it close Wednesday until the Bearcats went off on a 20-point second-half spurt that opened their lead to 82-61.

Connie Dierking, 6-9 1-2 center who missed Cincinnati's Dec. 30 game with Bradley, shared honors with Robertson Wednesday by tallying 12 points and proving a key man off both backboards. A capacity crowd of 7,291 saw the game at the Cincinnati Field House and another 1,200 watched on a closed circuit TV showing on the campus.

Robertson Breaks Loose

Robertson was held to nine points in the first half but then broke loose with 31 in the second, and his game total was the most ever tallied against a Bradley team. The 40 points raised Oscar's season total to 633 in 19 games for a 33.32 average compared to Elgin Baylor's 33.72 average and Wilt Chamberlain's 31.07 mark.

The loss was the second in the conference and the fifth overall of the season for Bradley, which is expected to be invited to New York to defend its National Invitation Tournament title.

West Virginia, the nation's second-ranked team, clinched first place in the Southern Conference when it clobbered Virginia Military Institute, 104-58. Unlike Cincinnati, however, the Mountaineers must win a post-season conference tournament before clinching an NCAA berth.

Dayton Wins

None of the other top 10 saw action but 12-ranked Dayton defeated DePaul, 62-53, and 15th-ranked Notre Dame whipped Butler, 90-81, in other important games.

In other games, Loyola of Chicago rolled to an 18-4 lead in the opening minutes and toppled Western Michigan, 68-61; late free throws by Bernie Kapner enabled the University of Houston to score a 73-70 decision over North Texas State; Princeton whipped Columbia, 71-56, and George Washington went over the .500 mark (10-9) for the first time in two years when it beat Richmond, 76-64.

Baylor's, national scoring leadership will be on the line tonight although the 6-6 Seattle star has a "softie" in Regis, a small college. Other key games include Maryland vs. Clemson and North Carolina vs. Wake Forest.

Bull Dogs Play Benton Rangers In Davenport Gym Friday Night

Locals Will Help Dedicate Eldorado Gym Saturday Night

Coach Ralph Davison brings his Benton Rangers to Davenport gym Friday night to face the Bull Dogs in a return South Seven conference basketball game and the next evening Harrisburg will move over to Eldorado to help dedicate the spacious new Eagle gymnasium.

At Benton Jan. 10 the locals lost to Benton, probably the tallest team in the conference, 75 to 70. A bad first quarter, which ended with the Bull Dogs trailing 16-6, put Coach John Dotson's crew so far behind they just didn't quite catch up.

With only two seconds left in the game the Bull Dogs had narrowed the gap to 73-70 but at that point Hungate of Benton was fouled and he made two free shots just before the horn sounded ending the contest.

Hungate and Ron Maynard of Harrisburg were high scorers in that game, with 22 points each.

In this contest Harrisburg, now tied with Centralia for sixth place in the conference with two wins and eight losses, will be trying to tie Benton for fifth place. The Rangers are 3-7.

In other Friday night conference games top team West Frankfort (8-1) will be host to Marion (4-6) and there should be a classic at Herrin where the Tigers (8-2) entertain Mount Vernon (7-3).

There's quite a string of games Friday night with the other three Saline county teams being in action. Carrier Mills will be at Norris City, Eldorado will be at McLeansboro and Galatia will be at home to Rosiclare.

Other games that night are: Johnston City at Christopher, Thompsonville at Valier, Golconda at Shawneetown, Carbondale at Anna, Sparta at Pinckneyville, Du Quoin at Chester, Murphysboro at Trico, Shawnee at Metropolis, Crab Orchard at Royalton, Hurst-Bush at Sesser, Carterville at Elkville, Cairo at Mounds, Mounds Douglass at Venice and Brookport at Dongola.

Only one South Seven game is on the slate for Saturday night but all seven teams will be active. Lone loop encounter will find Centralia at Benton. Besides Harrisburg at Eldorado, Herrin will be at Johnston City, West Frankfort at Carbondale, Marion at Paducah and Mt. Vernon at Salem.

Other tilts find Ridgway at Equality, Pinckneyville at Anna, Murphysboro at Du Quoin, Attucks at Cobden, Metropolis at Brookport and Carterville at Shawnee.

Celtics, Hawks Near Pro Titles

By United Press

The Boston Celtics and the St. Louis Hawks, pre-season favorites to win division titles in the National Basketball Association, are approaching their targets ahead of schedule.

The Celtics, who took the Eastern lead right at the start of the season and haven't been out of first place since, racked up their nearest rivals, the Syracuse Nationals, 119-101, Wednesday night, while the Hawks, who have held almost as tight a strangle-hold on the Western lead, downed the Detroit Pistons, 106-97.

With a comfortable seven game lead, the Celtics need only nine wins in their remaining 16 games, provided the Nationals win all of their 14 remaining games, to clinch the Eastern title.

The Hawks, who appear to have shaken a protracted slump which got to the point where owner Ben Kerner and coach Alex Hannum began shouting at each other, need 10 wins in their 15 remaining games to clinch the Western title, if the runnerup Cincinnati Royals win all of their 16 games.

In the only other game played, the New York Knickerbockers rallied in the final period to beat the Minneapolis Lakers, 106-97.

FROM THE HEART, FOR THE HEART—The American Heart Association points out that there are more than 20 forms of heart disease affecting over 10 million Americans, including 500,000 children. Nearly 180,000 persons die of strokes each year. In 1956, last year for which figures are available, heart and circulatory diseases were responsible for 53.9 per cent of deaths at all ages (see Newschart). The Association, in its month-long February campaign for the Heart Fund, has designated February 23rd as Heart Sunday, when volunteers in communities across the nation will stage a door-to-door appeal.

Oral Roberts

Evangelist Challenges Faith-Healing Label

By ALBIN KREBS
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (UP)—Of all the many labels that have been tacked on evangelist Oral Roberts, the one he most despises and is quickest to challenge is that of "faith-healer."

Roberts, who considers himself the most sorely misunderstood man of God in modern times, has always had to fight a steady stream of accusations from both the clergy and the public.

The tall, gangling evangelist eagerly and calmly answers all the accusations, among them the charge he says he is not a faith healer yet does little to dispel the notion. He is often accused of using human misery to amass a personal fortune, of battling the medical profession, and of selling the Scriptures, salvation and faith-healing like soap.

"Actually," says Roberts, "far too much is said about faith-healing portions of our services. We are primarily interested in saving souls, and prayers for the healing of the body come naturally at the close of the services because we believe God is a good God and does not want us to suffer."

Only God Can Heal

"I am not a faith-healer," he insists. "I am an instrument of God, an instrument for faith-healing—and that's different. Only God can heal and I have never claimed such powers for myself."

At each of his meetings, Roberts tells his listeners that "it's God who's doing the healing, not me" but there are still many who confuse God, the Healer, with Roberts, God's earthly contact with the sick. Roberts says he genuinely regrets this.

Roberts does maintain he possesses a God-given power that feels like "liquid fire" in his hands. The power was described by T. J. Rathke of Cameron, Wis., who claimed he was cured through Roberts of angina pectoris, as being like "a charge of electricity."

Rathke and other Roberts followers annually contribute more than three million dollars to carry on the work of the Oral Roberts Evangelistic Assn., whose 350 employes will move into a new seven-story headquarters building in Tulsa, Okla., in November.

The association's work is big business. It carries on 12 major Roberts crusades a year, plus several smaller ones, and broadcasts weekly over 350 radio stations around the world and 140 TV stations in the United States and Canada. It prints Abundant Life, the third-largest religious magazine in the United States and 60 million pieces of assorted literature annually. Missions are maintained in Africa and among the American Indians. Roberts is himself part Cherokee and Choctaw.

Roberts has a ready answer, one that is as honest as it is blunt, to questions about how much money he personally makes in his work. The answer: "That's nobody's business but mine."

A "Love Offering"

He says it is the custom for ministers of the Pentecostal Holiness Church to keep such information to themselves, and he does not intend to break the custom.

At the close of each of his crusades, a "love offering" is collected for Roberts, his wife, and their four children. An aide said "$2,000 is as much as we can hope for" in these collections. Since Roberts conducts a dozen crusades a year, his income thus approaches $25,000, the same as that of Billy Graham, one of the few evangelists who reveals his salary.

The charges that Roberts oversimplifies theology, presents a too literal interpretation of the Scriptures, and dispenses faith-healing as though he were selling soap, the evangelist has this to say:

Admits Healing Line

"Yes, we do use a healing line and we have to pray over more than 200 sufferers in a single service. It may look like we're selling soap, but we're not—our time is limited, and so is my physical strength, and we're trying to do the most good for as many peoples as possible.

"I hope God lets me live another 30 years, for I think by then we'll see an unbelievably close alliance between science and the kind of healing I encourage. The doctors are finding out that their medicines don't always help."

Roberts says God has instructed him to save a million souls a year, and no criticism will stand in his way.

"At the same time," he says, "I would be no kind of minister at all if I didn't use my God-given ability to lead the sick to the Lord's healing waters."

Some people think they are careful drivers if they look both ways before running a red light.

Scouts Gain In Membership

R. Ralph Bedwell, president of the Egyptian Council, Boy Scouts of America, announced that reports from the national office indicated that the Boy Scouts of America reached its highest membership peak on Dec. 31, 1957 with a total enrollment of 4,751,495 boys and leaders enrolled, which was an increase of 4.9% over the previous year.

"We are proud to announce that the Egyptian Council exceeded the National record in percentage increase in all parts of the program," Bedwell said.

In Cubbing, for boys 8, 9 and 10 years of age the national increase was 6.6% with the Egyptian Council reaching 6.9%. In Scouting members, 11, 12, and 13 years the national growth was 1.6% compared with 6.3% locally. Largest local growth was in the Explorer program for 14 years and older, showing a 13.6% gain as compared with 4.0% for the National Council. Total membership increase was 4.5% with the Egyptian Council reaching 7.8%.

On December there was a recorded gain of 5.7% in Scout units, with the Egyptian Council topping 8.3%. Comparative figures for the National Council and the Egyptian Council in types of units are Cub Scout Packs, 7.7% and 10.2%; for Scout Troops 3.1% and 3.3%; and for Explorer Units 9.3% and 19.0%.

"Since its founding forty-eight years ago Saturday, Feb. 8, the Boy Scouts of America has ended each year with a gain in membership. Since 1910 there have been over 27,500,000 boys and leaders identified with the Boy Scouts of America," Bedwell reported.

Apprentice petty officers are chosen from the ranks of the seaman recruits to assist company commanders.

Henry B. Abney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Waldo B. Abney, RFD 1, Harrisburg, graduated from recruit training Feb. 7 at the Naval Training Center, San Diego, Calif. The graduation exercises marked the end of nine weeks of "boot camp."

Charlie Townes in Final Preparation for Trip to Moon

Charlie Townes and his staff at Townes Chevrolet in Harrisburg were busy this week making last minute preparations for his trip to the moon. The trip is expected to take approximately 25 hours with the rocket "MOON-NIK" travelling an average speed of 10,000 MPH. "MOON-NIK" was designed and engineered by Townes Chevrolet and is powered by a giant Chevrolet engine. Charlie Townes received the first dealership for Chevrolet sales on the moon several months ago, and plans to carry a full load of new cars on the rocket. Charlie said, "I don't know whether there's life on the moon, but if there is, I want to be the first man from earth to sell the new '58 Chevrolets!" A tentative date of February 15th has been set for the blast-off, and it will be covered exclusively by the remote facilities of WSIL-TV, Channel 22. Estimated blast-off time is between 8 and 9 p. m. CST.
